

1204

School of Arts

The North Sydney School of Arts stood on this site from 1886 until it was closed in 1935.

Sir Henry Parkes officiated at the opening ceremony.

This community family house, library, meeting rooms, and billiard room also a popular concert hall.

From 1921 to 1929 it was the training depot of 7th Field Brigade Australian Field Artillery.

This plaque presented by 7th Field Regiment RAA Association

“ In memory of those who served “

North Sydney Council
Historical Society 2002

This site which is on the corner of Miller & Mount Sts. North Sydney is now the residence of a Starbuck's coffee franchise and the Victoria Cross Tavern.

54043

Australian Military Forces Army Drill Hall

To commemorate the Army Drill Hall that stood on this site from 1924 to 1997.

We pay tribute to the significant contribution to the defence of our nation by the soldiers who paraded at this drill hall in times of peace and war, and those who made the supreme sacrifice.

“ Lest we forget “

The various Corps of the Australian Army with units stationed here were :

Royal Australian Infantry Corps 17th Battalion (The North Sydney Regiment)

2nd Battalion and 17th Battalion (New South Wales Regiment.)

Royal Regiment of Australian Artillery.

Royal Australian Engineers.

Royal Australian Medical Corps.

Australian Army Cadet Corps.

The Scottish Voluntary Aid Detachment.

North Sydney Council
Historical Society 2002

Corner of Carlow Street & Cassins Lane North Sydney.

This sacred site is where many a young potential National Serviceman had his first experience of army discipline. A large town house complex (Beauchamp Square) now stands in its place.